If you're planning a trip to Cuba, there are a few things you should know before you go. Here's our ultimate guide to everything you need to know to travel in Cuba:

1. Visas

All visitors to Cuba need a visa. You can get a tourist visa from your local Cuban embassy or consulate. The visa will cost €22 and is valid for 30 days. You can extend your visa for an additional 30 days by visiting the immigration office in Havana.

2. Accommodation

There are a variety of accommodation options available in Cuba, from budget guesthouses to luxury hotels. The most popular type of accommodation for tourists is the casa particular, which is a privately owned home that rents out rooms to guests. Casa particulares are a great way to experience Cuban culture and meet local people.

3. Getting around

Cuba has a good public transportation system, with buses and trains connecting all major cities. You can also rent a car, but be aware that the roads can be in poor condition. The most popular way to get around Cuba is by taxi. Taxis are relatively inexpensive, but be sure to negotiate the fare before you get in the car.

4. Food

Cuban food is a unique blend of Spanish, African, and Caribbean influences. The most popular dishes include ropa vieja (shredded beef), arroz con pollo (chicken with rice), and congri (black beans and rice). Cuba is also known for its delicious fruit, such as mangoes, pineapples, and papayas.

5. Culture

Cuba has a rich and vibrant culture. The country is home to a number of UNESCO World Heritage Sites, including the Old Havana and the Viñales Valley. Cuba is also known for its music, dance, and art. Be sure to visit a local salsa club and see a traditional Cuban dance performance.

6. Activities

There are plenty of things to do in Cuba, from exploring the colonial cities to swimming in the crystal-clear waters of the Caribbean Sea. Here are a few of the most popular activities:

- Visit the Old Havana
- Take a day trip to Viñales Valley
- Go swimming in the Caribbean Sea
- Learn to salsa dance
- Visit a tobacco plantation
- Go hiking in the Sierra Maestra mountains

7. Safety

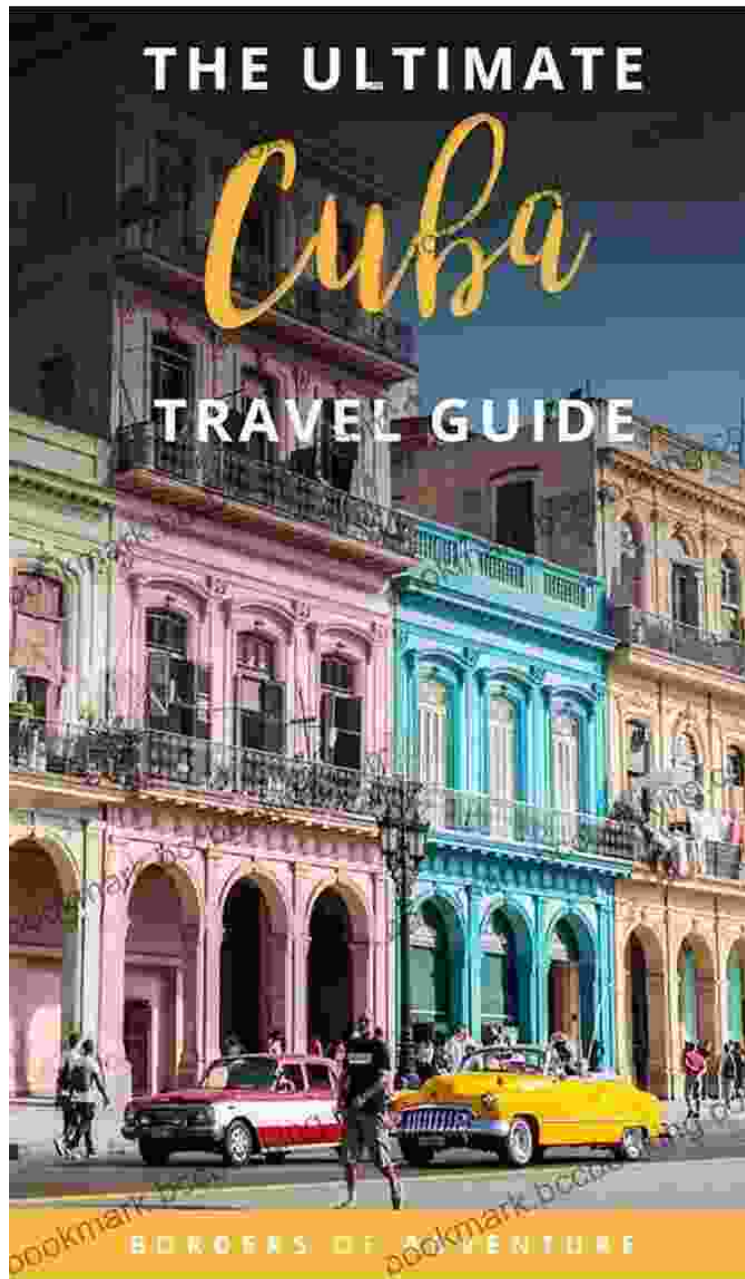

Cuba is a safe country to travel in. The crime rate is low, and the people are friendly and welcoming. However, as with any travel, it's always important to be aware of your surroundings and take precautions to protect yourself from petty crime.

8. Tips for traveling in Cuba

- Bring plenty of cash. Cuba is a cash-only country, so it's important to have enough money on hand to cover your expenses.
- Learn a few basic Spanish phrases. This will help you to communicate with locals and get around more easily.

- Be prepared for the heat. Cuba is a tropical country, so the weather can be hot and humid. Be sure to drink plenty of water and wear sunscreen.
- Don't be afraid to ask for help. The Cuban people are very friendly and helpful. If you need assistance, don't hesitate to ask.
- Enjoy yourself! Cuba is a beautiful and fascinating country. Be sure to relax and enjoy your trip.

We hope this guide has been helpful. If you have any other questions, please feel free to contact us. We're always happy to help.
